Class song- Words by Ida Alice Sheppard and Kathryn M. Hunter

With ling 'ring hands we turn the page

That closes on our high school days

With memories of friendship won

This chapter of Life's book is done

*With courage only Youth can know
And fearless hearts prepared to go
Protected by God's guiding hand
We stand awaiting Life's command.*

*These happy days our youth has known
Will linger when the years have gone
And when at last with dauntless will
We've gained the summit of the hill,
We'll turn the pages back once more
And live again the days of yore
With happy smiles and yet a tear
Our high school days forever dear.*

Class Hymn-Words by Edgar Hegh- Music by Alan Vaness Chakmakjian

*We know not where the endless sea
May toss ur fragile craft;
We know not to what destiny
The winds our lives may waft.
The winds our lives may waft
The winds our lives may waft
We know not to what destiny
The winds our lives may waft.*

We know not through what seas, serene,

*Our ship may proudly sail;
Nor do we know the winds that scream
And laugh amid the gale.
And laugh amid the gale
And laugh amid the gale
Nor do we know the winds that scream
And laugh amid the gale.*

*But this we know, that He whose will
Did calm Lake Galilee,
Commands the winds and waters still,
Commands the mighty sea.
Commands the mighty sea
Commands the mighty sea
Commands the winds and waters still,
Commands the mighty sea.*
